Dear Sion Buckler,

Freedom of Information Request – FOI2026/00751

We are writing in response to your email received by Post Office Limited ("Post Office") on 16 July 2026, which has been dealt with under the terms of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 ("FOIA").

In your email, you have requested the information shown verbatim in bold below:

I am writing to request information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (or equivalent records access) regarding my grandfather, Mr. Williams, who worked in the engineering department of the Cardiff Post Office / General Post Office around 1897.

Specifically, I seek any records, personnel files, correspondence, reports, or mentions confirming his involvement in Guglielmo Marconi's wireless telegraphy experiments at Lavernock Point (including erecting the 120-foot pole and related tests to Flat Holm). This relates to contemporary newspaper reports from May 1897.

Please provide:

* Any personnel or service records for Mr. Williams in the Cardiff engineering department circa 1897.

* Documents referencing "Mr. Williams" in connection with Marconi's demonstrations.
* Any other relevant historical files from the GPO telegraph/engineering teams.

I am ultimately seeking any record about my great grandfather Mr Williams of Great House Farm, Llandough, Cardiff (formerly Vale of Glamorgan). Not to be confused with Great House Farm, Llandough, Cowbridge, Vale of Glamorgan. And his role in the Marconi experiment. And before and after Marconis stay with our family in our home in 1897.

We can confirm we do not hold the information you have requested. Post Office separated from Royal Mail Group ("Royal Mail") on 01 April 2012; who may have held the information you are seeking.

However, given the historical nature of your request, it is likely that The Postal Museum, which holds and cares for the archives of Royal Mail Group plc, and Post Office Limited, may hold details of your request. The Postal Museum is one of the oldest business archives in the world and continues to collect and care for the records of the two businesses to this day:
